EXPRESSING SYMPATHY FOR FLOOD VICTIMS IN SOUTHEAST

SPEECH OF

HON. LAURA RICHARDSON

OF CALIFORNIA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Wednesday, May 12, 2010

Ms. RICHARDSON. Mr. Speaker, I rise today in strong support of House Resolution 1337, expressing the sympathy and condolences of the House of Representatives to those affected by the flooding in Tennessee, Kentucky, and Mississippi in May 2010.

I would like to acknowledge Speaker PELOSI and Chairman OBERSTAR for their leadership in bringing this important resolution to the floor. I would also like to thank my colleague Congressman COOPER, who authored this legislation.

As Chair of the Homeland Security Subcommittee on Emergency Communication, Preparedness, and Response, I stand with my colleagues in expressing our deepest sympathy to those affected by this recent flooding. The State of Tennessee was hit by unprecedented rainfall that resulted in the massive flooding of areas in and around Nashville. According to the National Weather Service of the National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration, the two-day rainfall totals of 13.53 inches more than doubles the previous record of 6.68 inches set in September, 1979. Unfortunately, the storms causing the rainfall claimed the lives of 31 people across Tennessee, Kentucky, and Mississippi. My heart goes out to their families and loved ones.

In addition, the storms destroyed homes and displaced thousands of people across Tennessee, and the flooding affected travel along hundreds of roads throughout Tennessee, including interstate highways 40 and 24. Schools and universities across the region were closed. However, in this time of need, citizens and emergency responders worked together to aid their neighbors after the storm. I want to express my gratitude and appreciation to the people of the State of Tennessee and the surrounding States, who continue to work to protect people from the floodwaters and aid in the recovery efforts.

In conclusion, Mr. Speaker, I stand with my colleagues today to honor the emergency responders across Tennessee for their bravery and sacrifice during this tragedy.

Mr. Speaker, I urge my colleagues to join me in supporting H. Res. 1337.

HONORING THE 2ND AIR DIVISION OF THE 8TH AIR FORCE

HON. DUNCAN HUNTER

OF CALIFORNIA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Thursday, May 13, 2010

Mr. HUNTER. Madam Speaker, I rise before the House today to remember the American heroes of the 2nd Air Division of the 8th Army Air Force, and the designers and manufacturers of the B-24 Liberator whom served our country so honorably during WWII.

The 8th Air Force—known better as the “Mighty Eighth”—was part of the largest air strike force in history, flying bombing missions over Europe from November 1942 to April 1945. While pilots and crewmen were trained in Pueblo, Colorado, their aircraft—the B-24 Liberator—had its manufacturing headquarters in San Diego.

In the peak of the wartime efforts, 11 Liberators were built a day, and more Liberators were produced than any other four-engine bomber in World War II, including the famous B-17 bomber. Over 18,000 bombers were made by Consolidated Aircraft Corporation in San Diego between the years of 1939 and 1945, and over 45,000 San Diegans helped in the manufacturing process.

The B-24 Liberator carried a crew of 8 to 10 men, and was powered by four 1,200 horsepower engines and carried 2,750 gallons of fuel. Many of the B-24 missions were round trips of 1,500 miles, and the planes were not pressurized or heated; crewmen wore oxygen masks on high altitude missions and were exposed to temperatures that could reach minus 50 degrees Fahrenheit. Despite these conditions, the 2nd Air Division dropped over 630,000 tons of bombs and destroyed thousands of enemy aircraft.

In San Diego, we honor their service at the Veterans Memorial Garden in the Air Garden, which is the first city park to honor the ground and flight crews of the bomber, along with the citizens of San Diego who helped build it.

Madam Speaker, we will never forget the bravery displayed by the men of the 2nd Air Division, 8th Air Force. We will remember their sacrifice and patriotism, especially as the remaining members meet on June 5th for their annual reunion. So, as we remember the contributions made by the members of the 2nd Air Division, 8th Air Force, we shall never forget that the freedoms we enjoy today are because of the courage and valor displayed by those who fought to protect them. As a veteran myself, I take great pride in recognizing the 2nd Air Division and the San Diego community for their contributions and tireless efforts that were so critical to our success and ultimate victory in World War II.

CONGRESSIONAL RECOGNITION FOR THE ARA PARSEGHIAN MEDICAL RESEARCH FOUNDATION

HON. GABRIELLE GIFFORDS

OF ARIZONA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Thursday, May 13, 2010

Ms. GIFFORDS. Madam Speaker, I rise today to recognize the Ara Parseghian Medical Research Foundation, which is holding its 15th annual “One More Victory, Ara!” event in Tucson, Arizona on May 14 and 15.

The Foundation was established by in 1994 by Cindy and Mike Parseghian after three of their four children were diagnosed with Niemann-Pick Type C disease. It is named for the children's grandfather, Ara Parseghian.

Niemann-Pick Type C disease is a genetic, neurodegenerative disorder that causes progressive deterioration of the nervous system. It affects children by interfering with their ability to metabolize cholesterol. This metabolic disorder results in neurological problems that are ultimately fatal.

Tragically, Mike and Cindy's three children, Michael, Marcia and Christa lost their lives to Niemann-Pick Type C disease. But as Cindy, has said, “they have given us a legacy of hope.” Cindy, Mike and their extended family has not been defeated by the deaths of their children. With incredible determination and hope they have devoted themselves to finding a way to conquer this disease.

Great progress has been made through research supported by the Foundation. Scientists funded by the Foundation have identified the gene responsible for causing NP-C. This discovery has played a major role in moving Niemann-Pick research to a new and encouraging level.

On her desk, Cindy Parseghian keeps a quote by physicist, inventor and rocketry pioneer Robert H. Goddard: “The dream of yesterday is the hope of today . . . and the reality of tomorrow.”

Those dreams and hopes are carried forward by the Ara Parseghian Medical Research Foundation, which has raised more than $33 million. That money has been used to fund more than 75 research projects, which the Parseghian family believes will prevent other families from having to lose a child to this disease.

The family's cause has become our community's cause and this weekend hundreds of people will gather to once again show their support for the Foundation and its critical mission.

The Foundation is a labor of love for the Parseghian family and for many others but we all know that the hardest worker, the force behind the Foundation, is Cindy Parseghian. While Cindy would not want to be singled out for all that she has done, we do so today on behalf of a grateful community and in recognition of her dedication to the work of the Foundation over the past 15 years.

I commend the Parseghian family for their courageous fight on behalf of children across our country and the world. The fight has been difficult but, with the progress they have made, the final victory is within sight.
